Peace between France and Prussia

The war between France and Prussia is virtually an end. The representatives of the people of France, in the Bordeaux Assembly, have ratified the terms negotiated by Thiers and Favre with Bismarck, and it is now only a matter of time when peace shall be formalized and finally proclaimed. The war commenced on July 15th, and may be said to have ended on February 28th—a period of seven months and a half. The war was an aggressive one on the part of France; and the unanimous condemnation of Napoleon III. by the Bordeaux Assembly, but confirms the general judgment of mankind. It will yet, however, become a debatable question whether the Prussians were right or wrong in refusing to accede to the terms of peace offered by the Provisional Government after the fall of Sedan and the capture of the Emperor. It does apparently seem hard that the French people should have been compelled to struggle on for five months after the fall of Sedan, notwithstanding all their exertions to secure peace—honorable peace—preserving their country from dismemberment. It may, however, turn out that the Prussians had a clearer view of the question, and were most interested in securing the permanent peace, with guarantees for its long continuance, were right; and that history may yet supply their justification. For it must be apparent to every one that if peace had been concluded on the fall of Sedan, or the capture of Metz, France, with her national pride wounded, and with her resources but little impaired, would have soon sought an opportunity to restore her military prestige by leading her soldiers once more to the Rhine. As it is, she has literally been exhausted. Driven back from the frontier, defeated in battle after battle, half of the country in possession of the Prussians. France started into submission, without being able to raise the siege, compelled to struggle without an ally against the hundreds of thousands of victorious Germans, twice as powerful by their brilliant successes—there was no alternative but to submit to their conqueror. The terms are such that it will be long before France will be in a position to engage in war again with a first-class nation like Prussia. The transfer of Alsace, which contains the departments of the Upper and Lower Rhine, shuns France completely out from the river Rhine, and thus offers a security to Prussia against future aggression. Alsace, too, has a million of inhabitants, and with its wealth, must prove a material loss to France. But, the enormous indemnity that France has exacted for the expenses of the war, that will force France to keep the peace. No less than five milliards of francs—$1,000,000,000, or £200,000,000—will have to be raised by the French people within three years, to pay Prussia. The indemnity is nearly equal to double the annual taxation of France at the outbreak of the war. Besides that, there is the enormous war debt that France herself has contracted in order to resist the Germans. Then again, the loss of men and materiel during the war, with the fortresses of Metz and Strasbourg, will so weaken the fighting capacity of France, that Prussia will secure twenty years of tranquility with her powerful neighbor. The war has united all Germany, except the Austrian States, into one great nation—the most powerful by far in Europe. It has dethroned the Emperor Napoleon, but has made William Third Emperor of Germany. With all his successes they have been met, Prussia has emerged from this war as the first military nation in the world, and the real dictator of Europe. No other nation, perhaps, except the United States, holds a similar position; and each of these distinct peace or war, freedom or subjugation, to the people who inhabit their respective contingents. What the new form of government in France will be, it is difficult to predict; but it is more than likely that the Republic will be short-lived, like the interregnum in Spain, and will be succeeded by a monarchy, over which will probably preside a Prince of the House of Orleans.

Inverted Littleness.

The Colonists tried, yesterday, to make it appear that Dr. Heilmeier was in favor of the provision to allow voters the opportunity to qualify up to the time of putting in their claims to the State; but the organ of his Inverted Littleness well knows that such is not the fact; and that it had not been for the member for Victoria district pointing out the great wrong that would be done by the Biff as it stood, in all probability one-third of the voters of the Colony would have been disfranchised. When it is shown that Dr. Heilmeier, instead of Mr. DeGraw, suggested the amendment adopted by the Attorney General, we will admit our position to be wrong—but not stiff then. We do hope our temporary will not make another effort to make black white, and white no color at all.

Away With the Sham.

BORROWED.—As a spectator yesterday in the legislative Council I fully realized the absurdities created by the article of this extract on the probabilities of legislation by the vote of nine constitutions viz. That its proceedings would effect a farce, its tactics would offend a delusion. The debate on the Prudential Bill by men who are under orders how to vote is a farce. The attempt to institute a parliamentary system with carried majorities is more than a delusion—it is a dodge. The attempt to combine a semblance of power for the Legislature with its reality to the Executive is to court the perils inherent to deception. It is no longer a question whether Democracy or Democracy shall build a franchise, but whether it is wise for the government to do it adventitiously dictatorial powers to overrule the will of the elective masters, or of the legislative. If the government can't rule the people, let us go to the people, or the Napoleonic maxim, let us frankly acknowledge the principle and earn the respect due to truthfulness. Free men will cheerfully abide a dictatorship when public necessity demands; they will never submit to be bought and sold! Away with the sham. ONE OF THE PEOPLE.

A REQUEST SUPPLIED.—To avoid the necessity, which has heretofore existed, of sending to San Francisco to have finished book-binding, Robert Williams has, by steady application and practice in the largest establishments in California, perfected himself in the art of book-binding and ruling, both plain and ornamental, and is supplied with all the necessary material and machinery. Always to be found at T. N. Hibben's & Co.

Memory prevails over the past. Fall's Cakes over the present. The first lives in a sickroom hung with glorious trophies, and dead with tomb, but Fall's Cakes has but one share in the past, breakfast table. Its aroma will be lost, like a spirit and can be found for a few cents by respectable dealers in British Columbia. Beware of various imitations.

J. P. DAVIES & CO., Wharf Street, Will sell at the Cattle Market, Fort Street, at 12 o'clock noon, Heating, Gas, Etc.

THE CATTLE SALE.—Messrs. J. P. Davies & Co. will sell, at their cattle sales yard, Fort street, to-day, at noon, several head of cattle. Also, draught horses, carts, plows, harness, & farmcias single buggy, and celebrated Kestrel racing mares.

THE next meeting of the Legislative Council will take place on Tuesday next, at one o'clock p.m. The amendment to clause 1 of the Fisheries Bill will be the first business before the House, and is likely to create a "big" discussion.

SANDWICH ISLANDS.—Honolulu, Feb. 14.—The weather continues very unfavorable for the plantations, so far as getting off the crops is concerned, and some have had to stop work on account of the roads being impassable.

DISMISSED.—The police magistrate was engaged the greater part of yesterday in investigating the charge against Thomas Robson, of stealing a saw. After hearing all the evidence, the case was dismissed.

FLORAL TRIM.—We observe in the window of Messrs. Jay & Bates, Yates street, a splendid crimson camelia, quite refreshing to look at in such inclement weather.

FOR NANAIMO.—The schooner Black Diamond, Capt. Radlin, left yesterday, for Nanaimo, for a cargo of coal for Messrs. Brodrick & Co.'s depot.

THE SAANICH MAIIS.—A correspondent writes from Lake District under date of March 2nd, complaining of a grievance of the farmers, in connection with carrying the mails. We will only quote a portion of our correspondent's letter: "Only a portion of our month, every week, every week has charge of driver which I suppose from want of sufficient intelligence to decipher the addresses of parties here; has carried letters to, &c., to Saanich and from there back to Victoria and so on, for weeks together. It is an unconscionable time to wait for a vessel dressed 'Thompson' to be left with 'Mansou' and vice versa. From these remarks you will perceive that we complain not without good cause."

FARNESS MEETING.—A meeting of the farmers of North and South Saanich took place at Aphrons Hotel, on Thursday. Mr. J. J. Austin was present, from the Lands and Works Office. It was unanimously resolved that unless a new survey was made, and the road let out by contract, they would refuse to pay any more taxes; but if the work was let out by contract they would pay one year's taxes in advance, or work on the road to the amount of their taxes for the year. They also agreed not to hire their teams to the Government unless they were paid the amount of wages paid in town. This is the report as copied by us one by one who was present; but it is said not to be in accordance with the resolution.

THE INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.—A Washington dispatch of a late date states: "News was received here last night that it will be impossible for Sir John Rose to serve on the Joint High Commission to settle questions at issue between the United States and England. The Duke of Devonshire or the Duke of Argyle is mentioned as likely to be appointed in his place. It is believed the Commission will not begin its session until about the 1st of March, under the most favorable circumstances, Earl de Grey, Professor Hermann and Lord Tenterden, will not arrive here until the last week of the month, while the successor of Sir John Rose has not yet sailed."

A CARD.—To my Friends and Citizens of Victoria.—For five years I have been an invalid, during which time I have entirely exhausted my means, and my physician tells me, it is an impossibility to effect any relief in my case, except I have a change of climate. Much against my inclination I have to call on my friends and trust to the liberality of the public to assist me in this last resort.—JOSEPH BRADLEY. P. S. Subscriptions left at the office of the STANDARD newspaper will be most thankfully received.

[We have seen the person who is the subject of the above, and can vouch for the truthfulness of his statement, having both conferred with him and seen his physician's attestation to the fact.—Ed.]

PROSPECT SALE.—Mr. L. Franklin sold the following property yesterday, by auction, which realized very fair prices. Five small lots, James Bay, $37.50 each. Lot 20, North Park street, $190; lot 835, Johnson street, $210; building lot of lot 835, Johnson street, with a small house, $325; lot 2, block 1287, Pandora street, $345; lots 622 and 623, Herald street, $210 each; five acres, Cadboro Bay, $40 per acre; section 17, stage 3, Comox district, sold for $80.

CONSTITUTION.—In our report of the Legislative Council, yesterday, the hon. Dr. Carroll was reported to have said: "With reference to his constituents' approval of his course, it was a matter of indifference to him whether they did or did not." What the hon. gentleman did say, was: "With regard to my accountability to my constituents, that is a master between me and my constituents, and not between me and the member for Lillooet."

LACROSSE.—Remember the lecture of Mr. Cadell, this evening, at the St. George Hotel, Victoria. Subject—Optics, illustrated with diagrams, which will explain the theories of light, vision, colors, the rainbow, and the construction of optical instruments, condensed into questions and answers.

MAP OF ONTARIO AND CARIBOO.—Mr. Patterson's map of the Onotica and Cariboo gold fields will be ready on Tuesday morning. Details of it can be had at the store of Messrs. Hibben & Co. Any person visiting these mines had better purchase a copy before they go, as it will be found to be very useful.

GERMAN CELEBRATION.—A meeting of the German citizens will take place in a few days for the purpose of arranging the preliminaries for a grand jubilee in honor of peace. The grand will take place on the same day as the grand entry of the German army into Berlin, which will be in about two months.

BAD LUCK.—The schooner Cambria has again met with bad luck; this time in trying to beat to sea, she failed, and has had to put back to Sooke harbor, where she anchored off the port of Sooke. The G. S. Wright also made the attempt; but was also unsuccessful, and put about to Nootka Bay, where she lay at least four days.

UNION MARKET.—Mr. John Winger has purchased the good will and stock in trade of the Union Market, on Port street, from Mr. J. Blackbourne. Mr. Winger intends to keep constantly on hand the best meat in the market, which will be delivered to all parts of the city, fresh and cheap.

STREET CROSSINGS.—We have heard a great many complaints made lately, with regard to the dangerous state of some of the street crossings within the city limits. The City Fathers will make an effort day after day, and never think of sending them repaired.

CATTLE SALE.—Messrs. J. P. Davies & Co. will sell, at their cattle sales yard, Fort street, to-day, at noon, several head of cattle. Also, draught horses, carts, plows, harness, & farmcias single buggy, and celebrated Kestrel racing mares.

THE next meeting of the Legislative Council will take place on Tuesday next, at one o'clock p.m. The amendment to clause 1 of the Fisheries Bill will be the first business before the House, and is likely to create a "big" discussion.

FARNESS MEETING.—A meeting of the farmers of North and South Saanich took place at Aphrons Hotel, on Thursday. Mr. J. J. Austin was present, from the Lands and Works Office. It was unanimously resolved that unless a new survey was made, and the road let out by contract, they would refuse to pay any more taxes; but if the work was let out by contract they would pay one year's taxes in advance, or work on the road to the amount of their taxes for the year. They also agreed not to hire their teams to the Government unless they were paid the amount of wages paid in town. This is the report as copied by us one by one who was present; but it is said not to be in accordance with the resolution.

THE INTERNATIONAL COMMISSION.—A Washington dispatch of a late date states: "News was received here last night that it will be impossible for Sir John Rose to serve on the Joint High Commission to settle questions at issue between the United States and England. The Duke of Devonshire or the Duke of Argyle is mentioned as likely to be appointed in his place. It is believed the Commission will not begin its session until about the 1st of March, under the most favorable circumstances, Earl de Grey, Professor Hermann and Lord Tenterden, will not arrive here until the last week of the month, while the successor of Sir John Rose has not yet sailed."

A CARD.—To my Friends and Citizens of Victoria.—For five years I have been an invalid, during which time I have entirely exhausted my means, and my physician tells me, it is an impossibility to effect any relief in my case, except I have a change of climate. Much against my inclination I have to call on my friends and trust to the liberality of the public to assist me in this last resort.—JOSEPH BRADLEY. P. S. Subscriptions left at the office of the STANDARD newspaper will be most thankfully received.

[We have seen the person who is the subject of the above, and can vouch for the truthfulness of his statement, having both conferred with him and seen his physician's attestation to the fact.—Ed.]

PROSPECT SALE.—Mr. L. Franklin sold the following property yesterday, by auction, which realized very fair prices. Five small lots, James Bay, $37.50 each. Lot 20, North Park street, $190; lot 835, Johnson street, $210; building lot of lot 835, Johnson street, with a small house, $325; lots 622 and 623, Herald street, $210 each; five acres, Cadboro Bay, $40 per acre; section 17, stage 3, Comox district, sold for $80.

CONSTITUTION.—In our report of the Legislative Council, yesterday, the hon. Dr. Carroll was reported to have said: "With reference to his constituents' approval of his course, it was a matter of indifference to him whether they did or did not." What the hon. gentleman did say, was: "With regard to my accountability to my constituents, that is a master between me and my constituents, and not between me and the member for Lillooet."

LACROSSE.—Remember the lecture of Mr. Cadell, this evening, at the St. George Hotel, Victoria. Subject—Optics, illustrated with diagrams, which will explain the theories of light, vision, colors, the rainbow, and the construction of optical instruments, condensed into questions and answers.

MAP OF ONTARIO AND CARIBOO.—Mr. Patterson's map of the Onotica and Cariboo gold fields will be ready on Tuesday morning. Details of it can be had at the store of Messrs. Hibben & Co. Any person visiting these mines had better purchase a copy before they go, as it will be found to be very useful.

GERMAN CELEBRATION.—A meeting of the German citizens will take place in a few days for the purpose of arranging the preliminaries for a grand jubilee in honor of peace. The grand will take place on the same day as the grand entry of the German army into Berlin, which will be in about two months.

BAD LUCK.—The schooner Cambria has again met with bad luck; this time in trying to beat to sea, she failed, and has had to put back to Sooke harbor, where she anchored off the port of Sooke. The G. S. Wright also made the attempt; but was also unsuccessful, and put about to Nootka Bay, where she lay at least four days.

UNION MARKET.—Mr. John Winger has purchased the good will and stock in trade of the Union Market, on Port street, from Mr. J. Blackbourne. Mr. Winger intends to keep constantly on hand the best meat in the market, which will be delivered to all parts of the city, fresh and cheap.

STREET CROSSINGS.—We have heard a great many complaints made lately, with regard to the dangerous state of some of the street crossings within the city limits. The City Fathers will make an effort day after day, and never think of sending them repaired.

of artillery, took positions from Pont de Neuilly to the Place de la Concorde, and from Pont de Jour to the same point, as a precautionary measure. At 12 m. the head of the French army, including regiments of the 7th corps, passed through the few sections of Paris. And boys and women hurried away in tears. And boys and a few workmen were left. Not the slightest attempt was made at distinction in the conduct of the people, being admirably conducted by General Von Kalckreit in front, followed by many officers of all sorts of uniforms. They did not stop, but rode down the Champs Elysées to the Arc de Triomphe. The Guards followed, and then came the troops of Blue Dragoons, and after these marched a detachment of Bavarians, composed of infantry, followed by 200 men of every variety of the Prussian line; a corps composed of about a dozen officers of artillery at the head of a little column, which was closed by some thirty led horses, and containing altogether about 200 men. This brought up the rear. Shortly after 9 o'clock the whole body had passed the Arc de Triomphe and was descending to the Champs Elysées.
